POUNCER DESIGNS

Many face painters find round sponge pouncers, also known as daubers, to be an indispensable part of their kits. These little tools are fabulous at creating perfect circles, wonderful spherical shading and multi-colored effects, and make your quick designs look a lot more painstaking than they actually are. Having the round sponge on a handle also comes in very handy if you use stencils for your painting, as they help keep your fingers clean. Pouncers make beautiful and consistent beads for your painted jewelry designs! Even if you only use one color at a time, pouncers are fabulous for creating perfectly round circles in seconds, for simple designs such as basketballs, planets, smiley faces, etc! The possibilities are endless when you think in terms of circles. Think fish, turtle shells, insects, beads, eyeballs, teddy bears, puppies, flowers, peace signs, reptile scales... Check out page two for some instructions to get you started, and be sure to click on each image to the left for a link to explore each artist's website! Many thanks to Janna, Ainslie & Kumi for allowing me to share their great pouncer designs!

Basic Pouncer Basketball

by Gretchen Fleener

1
 Load the pouncer by pressing and twisting it in your orange, then touching one edge in red and the other yellow.

2
 Positioning the yellow edge where you want the highlight, press the pouncer against the skin and twist it to lay down the paint.

3
 Twisting the pouncer creates a spherical effect, with the yellow as a highlight and red as a shadow.

4
 Add your outlines and you're done! Try this technique on baseballs, smiley faces, planets, and more!

Loading & Using a Pouncer with Split & Rainbow Cakes

Press down and swipe across your rainbow or split cakes to load every color.

Pressing down and twisting the dauber creates a blended spherical effect.

Pressing down and just barely wiggling in the direction of the paint slices lays down stripes
